

■ A Brief Overview

At Northview, we believe in helping to train people for ministry. Interns participate in a structured program that exposes young leaders to practical church ministry in almost every area of the church and theological training.

The goal is to provide a place to gain experience, be exposed to a variety of ministries in the church, mentor under one of our pastors, develop a solid theological base, and develop the gifts that God has given. Internships are 10-12 months long and are paid positions of 40 hours a week.

■ Who Can Apply?

The ideal candidate for our program is a Bible College graduate who is looking for some practical experience in a church. They should be longing to grow deeper in their faith, willing to be stretched personally, seeking to develop their ministry/leadership gifts, wanting a deeper understanding of church ministry and desiring to be equipped for future ministry.

We believe that our program is ideal for a grad that is looking to flesh out the education they have received in a real-life church experience before going into full-time ministry or pursuing further education. It may also be ideal for people who are questioning their call to work in full-time ministry. Be involved for a year and see how God leads in and through that experience!

We are, however, open to people that have not yet finished their degree or are looking at pursuing ministry in the future. We desire to be flexible yet committed to what we believe God has called us to.

■ Internships

Internships are available in a wide variety of church ministries.

A Typical Week:

- prayer meetings
- a 2 hour theological class
- a 1 hour class with one of our pastors to talk about their ministry and Q&A
- visits to other ministries of the church
- one-on-one mentoring time with the pastor under whose ministry the intern is working
- significant involvement in a specific ministry area
- time for self-evaluation

Internships run from late August through the end of June. You may apply at any time before the fall. There is no deadline for applications, but positions do fill up quickly, so don't delay.

■ Testimonials

The Northview internship...integrates theological and ministry training in a church environment...I loved being able to learn and then apply biblical concepts all right within a ministry setting. The program is stretching and challenging - I feel much more confident in my skillset and character after going through the program.

Andrew (Abbotsford, BC)

Being able to be a part of a Godly community and see firsthand the strong (and weak) points of working in ministry has been a very developing experience, solidifying my previously vague views of what working in a church really means...I would have to say the best part of the internship for me is how much I have benefited from strong, caring spiritual mentorship.

Sterling (Abbotsford, BC)

I have learned much in theory, but more in practice. The difference between this and school: both offer valuable teaching and training, but it is the correction and edification given to me by Northview that has been priceless.

Mikey (Fairfield, California)

The internship was an amazing journey of testing the waters of working in full time ministry. It came with all kinds of invitations to be challenged, encouraged and inspired as we walked side by side with brothers and sisters who accepted the call to ministry years before us. We got to wade in the shallows in order to discover if we wanted to swim in the deep end or not.

Danae (Abbotsford, BC)

■ Our Core Values:
